

Trümmelbach and Interlaken

Comfortable day trip with the AFA Taxi

The name Trümmelbach comes from the German words for drum and stream, describing the roaring sound made by these waterfalls. Ten glacier waterfalls thundering inside the mountain at the same time and down into the valley can make an extremely loud noise, and it's such an impressive experience to be inside the rock watching these great masses of water. The Trümmelbach Falls are the only reachable subterranean glacier waterfalls in the world. They have been made accessible by elevator, balconies, tunnels, paths and platforms. In the afternoon, you visit Interlaken.
